

The University of Wisconsin-Madison

the center for european studies

presents

Teacher Workshop on Human Rights: Understanding How the EU Impacts Human Rights Regimes

Saturday, April 1 2017

9am-3pm

Best Western Plus InnTowner, 2424 University Ave, Madison, WI 53726

Led by: Jess E. Clayton (University of Wisconsin-Whitewater) and Mert Kartal (University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point)

Human rights are an essential part of learning about justice in our world. Yet how can it be taught effectively to students in a globally competent manner? Prof. Mert Kartal and Dr. Jess Clayton address the concerns of human rights in the EU context. Specifically, we will be looking at the EU's impact on human rights in member and candidate states. Participants will have time to discuss and explore ways to develop the workshop themes in their classrooms.

This event is held after the Human Rights Symposium on Friday, March 31 at the UW Law School. Information for that event can be found here: <https://hosted.law.wisc.edu/wordpress/wilj/symposium/>

To attend the workshop, please email Bridget McMahon at bcmahon@international.wisc.edu for the registration form. There is limited hotel space for the night of Thursday, March 30 and Friday, March 31. Those rooms will be on a first come, first served basis.

Registration deadline: Monday, March 13.